

Katie & Jim's California Trip Aug. 13-23, 2016

Katie had decided to move to California after her boyfriend Didi got a Music Teaching job in Antioch, CA, and he invited her to share an apartment together. After much planning, and a short window between my musical calendar, we made the trip.

Sat. Aug. 13:

Fortunately I had a gig rained out this evening, and was able to pick up our 10-foot U-Haul Truck here in Ithaca. I loaded the truck with the things from Katie's room here in the Ithaca house. It barely covered the floor of the truck, so we had plenty of room for her things from Asheville, NC. Carol helped me load the truck, and it looked like this:

Sun. Aug. 14:

I drove halfway down to Harrisonburg, Virginia, where I stayed in a Motel. I wanted to conserve energy for the next day.

Mon. Aug. 15:

I arrived in Asheville around noon, and we packed the rest of Katie's things with help from her roommate. The truck had enough room for everything, and we also packed her Prius with things we'd need access to at our Hotels. I slept on Katie's futon couch for the night.
